Support Catholic Education - Sponsor A Student

Tuition for the 2009 – 2010 academic year will be $6900, or $6050 for parish-sponsored students. The cost to educate one child for that year is estimated to be more than $10,800.

The Program:

To Sponsor A Student, you may choose to give a specific amount annually or make a one-time donation; give individually, as a family, organization, or as a group. Group leaders would solicit the participation of friends, colleagues and family to pool funds to assist a child. Supporters of Sponsor A Student will be recognized on the school and alumni websites, in newsletters and at events throughout the year, unless you request anonymity. General progress reports will be provided, or with the approval of the family, you may choose to know the student and follow them throughout their years at Catholic. You may give to the general tuition assistance fund or commit to follow one student throughout their years at Holyoke Catholic High School.

Out of 300 prospective students for 2009 –2010, 59 of them have a demonstrated need for tuition assistance.

Are you a vocal supporter of Catholic education? Are you a strong supporter of the values-based education that students have long received at Holyoke Catholic? If so, now is a critical time to stand up for Catholic education. To assist families in getting the best possible education for their child, Holyoke Catholic High School has implemented a new tuition aid program, Sponsor A Student (SAS).

For many families, tuition is an enormous burden. Because of the economic times that we are currently facing, this burden has become too great for some, causing them to contemplate not sending their child to Holyoke Catholic. While many families have long sacrificed a great deal for a child to be educated in a Catholic school, the uncertainty in today's economy is causing people to hesitate to commit to four more years of Catholic education and the tuition payments which accompany that education.
